ACCESSING YOUR ACADEMIC ADVISING REPORT (AAR) (2014)

- What is an AAR?
  - A tool that allows students and advisors to track student progress.
- Why should I use the AAR feature?
  - To plan your college career based on your specific degree program. This feature also allows you, the student, to have a better understanding of what your degree requires both short-term and long-term.
- Who should I ask if I have questions about my AAR?
  - You should consult your academic advisor for questions regarding your AAR.

1. Go to www.onestart.iu.edu and login with your student username and passphrase.

2. Once on the OneStart homepage, in the top left of the page, you will see a link for “Go to Student Center”, click this link.

3. Once you have clicked the “Go to Student Center” link, you will see a list of options on the left side, under “Academics.” Select the “My Academics & Grades” link.
4. Once on this screen, in the “Advising” box, click the link for “View My Advisement Report.”

5. On the next screen, use the drop down menus for “Institution,” “Academic Program,” and “Report Type” and complete them according to your academic plan. Under “Report Type,” select “Academic Advising Report (AAR).” When you have completed the drop down menus, click Process Request.
